Color Theory
Entertainment Arts: Acting for TV, Film, and Stage, Commercial acting, comedy and drama, modeling (print and live)
Also proficient in the business side of both fine and entertainment arts. I do this professionally.

Do you play sports or exercise?
Former basketball and volleyball player. Competitive level dancer. Now I mostly just hit the gym for cardio and weights.

How often do you exercise? 4 times per week.

Please describe your athletic abilities.

I like to stay fit and active; I value my health. I did cheerlead for many of my younger years in elementary, middle, and high school. I currently don't participate in any sports, but I do enjoy staying active.

Grew up in an athletic home with a basketball prodigy brother whose footsteps I was expected to meet.

Played a lot of basketball (mainly center when I was young) and volleyball (mainly a setter). I've played pretty much every sport at least once.

Thanks, Dad!

I have been competing in dance and marching band for several years.

Gymnastics in my youth, before retiring after an injury.

I generally work out at the gym 3x a week, using weight machines and cardio. The

The biggest weight I've pressed was 110lbs, back in college a few years ago. Nowadays I've recently gotten into calisthenics/body weight exercising at home.

Please describe your personality.

I grew up a little on the more reserved side because I was taught to focus on my studies rather than socializing. I pride myself on my intelligence.

Learning how to entertain people in college. I love making people smile and getting to know the people. I am a chronic rambler/chatter when I'm socializing.

but take lots of time to unwind by myself/with my significant other. I love the world and strive to make it a better place. I grew up Christian which is what I believe makes me love this planet so much. I spent time in my youth overseas in El Salvador as a missionary; and I have lived in Germany and South Korea studying abroad to deepen my knowledge and passion for culture. I care deeply about my friends and can be considered the "glue" of the group, because I am usually the one who gets everyone together. I'm also considered the "mom friend" of my social groups: I am always prepared (purse full of sanitizer, pads, snacks, etc.) and people turn to me for advice often.

Please describe your hobbies.

I absolutely love homesteading! I make soap and bread from scratch, and I grow plants (vegetables, herbs, or both) on my apartment's windowsill. Nothing brings me more joy than throwing on an apron and baking a treat or a fresh loaf of bread for my partner or watching my friends' reactions when I gift them a bar of soap that I've concocted an original scent for. I dream of having a home with a big garden so I can fully provide for a family with our own fruits and veggies. Aside from that, I love every corner of the arts! I read and draw a lot, or I will sit down with my (soon to be) husband and build model kits, play some story-based videogames, or have an intellectual critique session over the newest film or show. We are also both big D&D nerds, and we love to sit together and work on homebrewed ideas for campaigns. We love telling stories.

Egg Donation History

Why do you want to become an egg donor?

Everyone in this world deserves a chance to raise a family. If I can have a chance to help someone ache ive that dream, who am I to say no? I dream of being a mother myself, and I would be heartbroken bey ond belief if I was unable to do so.

If you could send a message to the Intended Parents. What would you say?

I don't mind the contract being either known or anonymous. Whatever makes the parents more comfo rtable!

What kind of contract do you want to sign with your prospective parents?

Known or Anonymous

Have you donated eggs in the past?

Yes
