Yes! I've been a fine artist since childhood. Before transitioning into my current position, I worked as a professional painter, which was my primary source of income. My mother is a fine artist and painter, and my grandfather was a metal sculptor—art runs deep in my family. I've received multiple university-level interior design awards and recently won a major Design Excellence Award for my artistic approach to commercial interior design.

I'm creative, warm, and driven. I've always been curious and deeply imaginative, which shows up in my artwork, design work, and everyday life. I'm also thoughtful and empathetic, with a strong sense of responsibility and a desire to give back to others, especially through meaningful work and connection. I am consistently described by others as tenacious, reliable, warm, and driven.

Please describe your hobbies.

I love painting and illustrating, and I've been a professional fine artist since I was young. I also play the violin, enjoy playing chess, and recently began writing and illustrating a children's book series. I'm currently studying interior design and serve as the public relations representative for my university's student council. In my free time, I volunteer with animals and work on my biotech side projects, I even filed a provisional patent for a topical probiotic acne treatment. My hobbies are creativity, strategy, science, and community engagement.

Egg Donation History

Why do you want to become an egg donor?

I'm passionate about helping others create the families they dream of. I feel incredibly grateful for my own health and genetic background, and I want to share that with a family who needs it. The idea that I could help someone start their journey into parenthood is meaningful to me.

If you could send a message to the Intended Parents. What would you say?

Thank you for considering me as part of your journey. I admire your strength and love, and I hope that my small part in this process brings you immense joy. I'm sending you all the hope, warmth, and light in the world as you grow your family.
